

A black, long-sleeved, button-down work jacket with a collar and two large chest pockets. The jacket is shown against a white background. It has a simple, functional design with a central button placket and two large, rectangular chest pockets with horizontal stitching details. The collar is a standard pointed style. The sleeves are long and appear to have simple cuffs. The overall look is that of a durable, utilitarian work garment.